

Blueprint for Education System Stewardship: Where is this direction in education coming from?

A Blueprint for Education System Stewardship was released in September 2016 by the NZ Government.

Education agencies – such as the Ministry of Education, the Education Review Office, the New Zealand Qualifications Authority, and the Tertiary Education Commission – worked with the State Services Commission to adapt the Performance Improvement Framework (PIF) to develop a joined up work programme. This will help them work together more effectively as stewards, with a common vision and plan to benefit the whole education sector.
